FINANCIAL CRIME COMPLIANCE PROJECTS (FICTIONAL TRAINING SIMULATIONS)

Self-directed, fictional training simulations using hypothetical data, completed for skill-building. These do not reflect real client information, regulatory filings, or professional AML system experience.

Transaction Monitoring Alert Review

- Reviewed a simulated transaction monitoring alert and examined transaction patterns against expected customer behavior to identify anomalies and potential red flags.
- Documented an objective case narrative with supporting rationale and an escalation recommendation based on the observed activity.

Account Takeover and Fraud Escalation Review

- Reviewed simulated account activity to identify unusual login activity and rapid account changes, then reconstructed a clear activity timeline.
- Identified relevant fraud indicators, preserved supporting evidence, and documented the case with a recommended escalation.

Business KYC/CDD Review

- Reviewed fictional customer and business information, including ownership structure and beneficial ownership, to support a risk-based due diligence assessment.
- Documented risk factors and information gaps in a structured case-file format consistent with standard CDD review practices.
